

航空大学校 2015 年実施 学力試験

英 語

リーディング・テスト(70 分) リスニング・テスト(約 20 分)

リーディング・テスト (I ~ III)

I 次の () に入る最も適当な語句を、1~4 から選び記号で答えよ。 (1 問 2 点)

問 1. The girls () baseball are my friends.

- 1: are playing 2: are played 3: playing 4: plays

問 2. He ran fast, and () catch the bus.

- 1: dare 2: may 3: must 4: was able to

問 3. I () from Miyazaki.

- 1: am 2: are 3: be 4: were

問 4. A: () are you most interested in?

B: I'm interested in American history.

- 1: How 2: What 3: When 4: Who

問 5. Remain () until the aircraft comes to a complete stop and await instructions from the cabin crew before disembarking.

- 1: seat 2: seated 3: seating 4: seats

問 6. A terrible incident () place in the park.

- 1: took 2: was taken 3: was took 4: has been taken

問 7. If you get to the airport and find your bag is over your weight (), you may be charged extra.

- 1: allowance 2: change 3: lifting 4: growth

問 8. He not only got () the first round but he reached the final again.

- 1: through 2: away from 3: rid of 4: in touch with 問 9. The primary reason why ideas about chaos have been seen as important for fluid () is their potential relevance to turbulence.

- 1: dynamic 2: dynamics 3: dynamite 4: dynasty

問 10. That comedian's jokes are an () to human dignity.

- 1: affront 2: accustomed 3: adrift 4: agency

II 次の各文章の () に入る最も適当な語句を、1～4 から選び記号で答えよ。 (1問3点)

Burger King restaurants in Japan (問 1) a perfume on April Fools' Day. They called it "Flame Grilled". However, the perfume was not a joke. Burger King actually sold it for 28 pounds. The perfume was unisex — both men and women could use it. You could buy the perfume only for one day, and there was a limited (問 2) of 1,000 bottles.

(問 1) 1: applied 2: attended 3: released 4: smelled

(問 2) 1: knowledge 2: part 3: size 4: supply

Every people has its own way of saying things — its own special expressions. Many everyday American expressions (問 3) on colors.

Red is a hot color. Americans often use it to express heat. They may say they are “red hot” about something unfair. When they are “red hot”, they are very (問 4) about something. The small hot-tasting peppers found in many Mexican foods are called “red hots” for their color and their fiery taste. Fast, loud music is popular with many people. They may say the music is “red hot” — especially the kind called Dixieland jazz.

(問 5) is a lighter kind of red. People sometimes say they are “in the (問 5)” when they are in good health. The expression was first used in America at the beginning of the 20th century. It probably comes from the fact that many babies are born with a nice (問 5) color that shows that they are in good health.

(* 問 5 は大文字小文字は無視してよい)

- | | | | | |
|-------|--------------|---------------|-----------|------------|
| (問 3) | 1: are based | 2: are basing | 3: basing | 4: based |
| (問 4) | 1: angry | 2: jealous | 3: sad | 4: worried |
| (問 5) | 1: black | 2: blue | 3: pink | 4: white |

Opened in 1983 and larger than the original Disneyland California, Tokyo Disneyland is the third most visited of any theme park in the world after the two Disney parks in the US. Like Walt Disney World in Florida, Cinderella's Castle is (問 6) at the centre of the park, rumoured to have been chosen because the princess's qualities of duty and a strong work ethic would resonate more deeply in Japanese culture than Sleeping Beauty, whose castle is (問 7) in the centre of Disneyland California.

- | | | | | |
|-------|-------------|--------------|------------|-------------|
| (問 6) | 1: located | 2: to locate | 3: locates | 4: location |
| (問 7) | 1: featured | 2: moored | 3: removed | 4: ruined |

Japanese primary schools are filled with surprises for foreigners. Students commute to school in groups with lower-graders being (問 8) by upper-graders. Children also break into teams to take on the tasks of cleaning and lunch duty. Japanese primary schools are not only a place to study but also a place to learn (問 9) life.

At a primary school in Saitama Prefecture, children were having a jump rope challenge in teams formed with students from all grades, 1st to 6th. At a primary school in Nagano Prefecture, a "rural education system" was being conducted where children from the city come to live together with schoolmates away from home in the heart of nature's (問 10).

- | | | | | |
|--------|-------------|------------|------------|------------|
| (問 8) | 1: lead | 2: leading | 3: leads | 4: led |
| (問 9) | 1: communal | 2: lonely | 3: risking | 4: village |
| (問 10) | 1: attire | 2: bottom | 3: bounty | 4: call |

Ⅲ 次の文章を読んで、以下の設問に答えよ。

Some visitors to the Japanese city of Kyoto are getting more than the standard sightseeing experience. They're not just looking at ancient buildings and learning about the past. They're also making a little history of their own by turning their visits into a lasting memory (1).

A couple from Hong Kong has come to Kyoto ahead of their big day to be photographed among the cherry blossoms. They'll show off their pictures at their wedding party.

One woman in the party explains the attraction: "I feel good and the weather is very nice. The city is pretty, with historic buildings nearby".

Kyoto's historic beauty makes it perfect for this kind of wedding tourism. The prefectural government offers special services to couples planning events.

Yuko Hirai, Kyoto Prefecture's Director General for Tourism explains: "There are many fashions that Japanese people may find hard to imagine, but which appeal to customers abroad. So we should not only promote what we want to sell, but gather information and study trends (2). Times have changed. We must try many different things".

Of all of Kyoto's new wedding packages, one of the most unusual is called the "Solo Wedding". The customers for this service are given a wedding dress to wear; a professional photographer takes their picture; a bride poses in a traditional garden, but there is no groom.

It's the brainchild of a Kyoto travel agency. The staff who work here are all female. They started by offering other women-only packages. Some are more novel than others.

One service is "Heartbreak Taxi". For a fee, customers can vent their sorrows to cab-drivers, who take them to sites famous for their healing powers (3). The company launched the "Solo Wedding" package in June last year.

"Some women who are not married continue to dream about wearing a wedding dress. So we thought we'd provide them with this opportunity", says Yukiko Inoue, President of Cerca Travel.

A 37-year-old woman from Tokyo has come to Kyoto to fulfill her dream of wearing a white wedding dress. "I'm excited. I can't wait to try it on", she says.

The 2-day package costs about $3,000. It includes an overnight stay, dress rental, make-up, and a photo session. The company says over 50 women have signed up for Solo Wedding so far, and inquiries are coming from overseas.

"These 2 days were just wonderful. The staff worked very hard", the customer says. "They gave me every service I could have imagined and made me feel like a princess".

Cerca President Inoue says: "Customers are happy with the feeling of going to an unknown place— and also the experience of transforming themselves".

Kyoto is already a major tourist spot, but weddings lend a new twist to sightseeing (4).

問 1. 下線部(1)を日本語に訳せ。(7 点)

問 2. 下線部(2)を日本語に訳せ。(9 点)

問 3. 下線部(3)を日本語に訳せ。(7 点)

問 4. 下線部(4)を日本語に訳せ。(7 点)